Jacques Lemoisson appointed Chief Investment Officer at Banque Cramer

Banque Cramer is pleased to announce the appointment of Jacques Lemoisson as its new Chief Investment Officer (CIO). Jacques Lemoisson will report directly to Chief Executive Officer Cédric Anker.

Jacques Lemoisson has an impressive track record and a high degree of investment expertise. He joins from Lombard Odier, where he acted as Head Advisory since 2010. Prior to this, he was Head of Sales trading at JP Morgan Investment Bank in the United Kingdom and France. From 1995 to 1999, Jacques Lemoisson led the fixed income departments of renowned French banks, advising Asset Managers, Pension funds and Treasuries. Throughout his career, he developed a deep understanding of geopolitics and Global Macro across all major asset classes. He has been a precursor with respect to selected investment themes related to emerging markets and cultivates a keen interest and network in innovative areas such as Fintech and Blockchain.

Cédric Anker, Chief Executive Officer of Banque Cramer:

“Jacques is the second key executive to join Cramer in only two months. I count on his experience, team spirit and sharp analyses to help us deploying our ambitious development strategy. I am delighted to have Jacques on board.”

Jacques Lemoisson, new Chief Investment Officer of Banque Cramer:

“I have always thought that there must be a way to build a disruptive investment service in Geneva. With the recent changes which took place at Banque Cramer, I envision a tremendous opportunity to implement my ideas. I am proud to contribute my knowledge and skills into such a stimulating new environment.”
